CORY NEEL

PROFILE

I have lived in Austin, TX since 2002. I first moved here to attend university at U.T. Austin and have lived here ever since. I am a foodie, world traveler, and aspiring full-stack web developer.

I have always benefited from my ability to process high stress scenarios and deadlines with a calm demeanor. I thrive on organization and direction, and truly flourish when working with groups. I am equally comfortable taking the lead on projects, or following direction from a project leader.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Odd Duck [General Manager]
2014–present
I have led a team of hospitality professionals for over 7 years. During this time Odd Duck has grown to be a leading example of exceptional service, hospitality, and knowledge. During this time I have built relationships with the central Texas farming community, and beyond.
